ADDITIONAL ARCHITECTURAL AND STRUCTURAL DESCRIPTION:

The Weyler house is a 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ story Greek Revival style structure. The 4 panelled center entry door contains one large light, is flanked by shutters, and is sheltered by a 1 story, flat roofed open porch supported by round tapering columns. Windows have two over two sash, and the ones on the first story of the front facade are surmounted by window caps. A window in the gable end has small, stained glass lights surrounding a large fixed light. The medium pitched roof is topped by one large corbel capped chimney, and the treatment at the eaves consists of a boxed cornice with gable end returns. A 1 story gable roofed ell has clapboard siding, a boxed cornice, and a rusticated cement block foundation. It attaches to a 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ story gable roofed barn. The Barn has clapboard siding, a boxed cornice, and horizontally sliding vertical board doors. It is topped by a decorative louvered cupola which has a hipped roof surmounted by a weathervane.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE (Evaluation & Historical Associations):

The Silloway House is a fine example of the continuation of an 18th century house plan popular in rural New England, modified with ornamentation from the mid-19th century.
