The Contraros House is a 1½-story Greek Revival style structure. The sidehall entry door has four panels and two lights. All windows are one-over-one with projecting caps, and the front facade has a one bay wall dormer. The medium-pitched roof is topped by a corbel-capped chimney, and the eaves treatment consists of a boxed cornice with slight gable end returns visually supported by narrow corner pilasters. The 1-story ell has the same siding, windows, eaves treatment, and foundation as the main block.
